

F4133001 L'ATELIER D'ISABELLE 1

These protective tablecloths from the studio bear an unintended imprint of creation, an organic memory of Isabelle de Borchgrave's artistic gesture. In them, one can discern the lines of a project and the colours of a future work. It is, in a sense, a painting without intention, offering us the very soul of her practice. A repeat was developed for easier use, but beyond that, the Pierre Frey studio has treated it in the most literal way: a print on heavy cotton fabric, highlighted with touches of white lacquer.
