

FP259001 MACAO

Like those large scarves that you drape over your shoulders and which bring a black and white dress to life. This design also marks the beginning of a great story in costume design, built around a dozen colourless dresses. One day, Isabelle de Borchgrave placed this coloured paper shawl on a bust, and the whole story of Frida Kahlo began. The digital print on pleated-embossed vinyl faithfully captures the spirit of the original artwork.
