

FP447002 PORTOR

Created by Mathias Kiss. A continuation of his research on folding and the deformation of stiff materials, this collaboration with Pierre Frey was initiated by "Wallpaper" magazine and echoes the artist's personal work by associating one of his painted marbles to wallpaper. He designed and painted the marble using oil paint, a technique he learned during his apprenticeship with the Compagnons. The motif symbolizes the origin of marble, the quarry, the raw stone, the material... and its application in furnishings.
